

Each year in Illinois, there are approximately 50,000 workers' compensation claims filed in Illinois. For those who are hurt on the job, Chicago lawyer Barry G. Doyle has provided this guide for injured workers in which he covers the following topics:

- Overview of the Illinois worker's compensation system
- Why "independent contractors" are sometimes still eligible for workers' compensation benefits
- What kinds of injuries are covered by workers' compensation
- Why you may be covered by workers' compensation even when you are "off the clock"
- What deadlines must be met to preserve your rights to workers' compensation benefits
- What rights do you have to control your own medical care—at your employer's expense
- Why your Average Weekly Wage is the most important figure in your workers' compensation case
- How settlements of workers' compensation cases are computed
- What if I can't go back to work?
- What happens when someone else is to blame for my injuries?
